Conflict Theory

- Another theory with a macro-level view, called conflict theory, looks at society as a competition for limited resources.
- Conflict theory sees society as being made up of individuals who must compete for social, political, and material resources such as political power, leisure time, money, housing, and entertainment.
- Social structures and organizations such as religious groups, governments, and corporations reflect this competition in their inherent inequalities.
- Some individuals and organizations are able to obtain and keep more resources than others. These "winners" use their power and influence to maintain their positions of power in society and to suppress the advancement of other individuals and groups.
- Of the early founders of sociology, Karl Marx is most closely identified with this theory.
- He focused on the economic conflict between different social classes. As he and Fredrick Engels famously described in their Communist Manifesto,
- “the history of all hitherto existing society is the history of class struggles. Freeman and slave, patrician and plebeian, lord and serf, guild-master and journeyman, in a word, oppressor and oppressed” (1848).
